Read the text and decide if each statement (1-10) is True (A), False (B) or Not Mentioned (C).

Tilos has recently been distinguished as a place where refugees from the war in Syria are actively welcomed. The residents of Tilos say their decision to accommodate and support a dozen refugee families -around 70 people in total– offers an example to the rest of Greece.

Unlike the miserable camps in other parts of Greece where refugees have nothing to do, those on Tilos are getting involved in the routine of daily life.

Almost all the adults, aside from mothers looking after small children, have found work in hotels and restaurants, shops, the island's bakery or as day workers.

The children go to Greek and English lessons and will start attending schools on the island in September. "I like the lessons, and playing outside, and having my friends around," said Nour, an eight-year-old Syrian girl, speaking in confident Greek rather than her native Arabic.

Eleni Kymina, 35, teaches the children Greek several times a week. "The kids really want to learn, they want to play music – all the things they didn't have a chance to do in the past," the teacher said.

"The refugees are much happier than they were at first, especially now they have found jobs. It's not good to sit around all day with nothing to do, you become depressed," said Spiros Aliferis, a team leader of a Greek NGO. "They're part of our community. The kids go to the playground in the village, they swim in the sea. And they learn Greek quickly."
